

From Washington

[Special Correspondence of the Alex. Gazette.]
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12, 1888

The House yesterday evening agreed to recede from its action and to accept the amendment of the Senate to the agricultural bill appropriating $100,000 toward the establishment of sorghum experimental stations. On the vote, the Virginia members are recorded as follows: Ayee, Messrs. Browne, Hopkins and Yost; noes, Messrs. Lee, O'Ferrall and Wise; not voting, Messrs. Bowden, Bowen, Brown and Gaines. This vote doesn't look as if the request of the Virginia legislature in respect of the particular matter referred to, had much effect upon the democratic members of the House.

The Senate yesterday agreed to insist upon its amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill appropriating $800,000 for subsidizing certain steamship lines. The House will never agree to it.

In the House yesterday, during the debate on the tariff bill, Mr. Grosvenor, republican, of Ohio, sent to the Clerk's desk and had read a newspaper dispatch from this city concerning a recent speech made in Baltimore by General Bradley T. Johnson, in which he said the South, in the war between the States, fought for constitutional liberty, and which speech was termed in the dispatch a "red-hot rebel speech."

Representative Scott, of Philadelphia, whose name is first on the list of the members of the executive committee of the national democratic committee, strange as it may appear, seems to think that notwithstanding Pennsylvania's 80,000 republican majority, she will go democratic next October, and Solicitor General Jenks, from the same State, is of the same opinion. The national democratic low tariff, and the State republican liquor law, which has closed about three fourths of the beer saloons in the State, are said to be the causes of the reported immense republican defection in State.

Senator Daniel escorted Mr. Norman Randolph to the White House this morning to repeat the invitation to the President to visit Richmond during the exposition there next fall. The President repeated his answer, which was to the effect that he didn't think he could accept, but if he could he would.

In the Senate to-day Messrs. Hawley, Stewart and other republicans made a resolution for the printing of an extra number of the President's vetoes, the occasion of some severe and groundless assaults upon Mr. Cleveland.

Mr. Randall is much better to-day. Some of his friends, however, say he will hardly be able to attend to any more legislative business at this session of Congress, and certainly no party work.

In the House yesterday Mr. Lee presented a petition of certain citizens of Loudoun county for the repeal of the internal revenue tax of $25 on druggists.

A postoffice was established to-day at West Falls Church, and the storekeeper there appointed postmaster.

Letter from Rappahannock.

WOODVILLE, July 10.—Manning, known hereabouts as Commodore Manning, was found dead in the road near the Gourd Vine Church, in this county, on Sunday last. He was an Englishman by birth and a sailor by occupation, and according to his account of his life had sailed on nearly every water and been in many parts of the world. He came to this neighborhood some fifteen years since and followed clock repairing as a trade. He was a man of much ingenuity, and had been in his earlier life robust, strong and of great endurance. Epilepsy, from which he suffered, was thought to have been the cause of his death.

Our County Court met and adjourned on Monday after transacting some routine business.

A railroad meeting had been advertised and many advocates for one were present. For some unknown cause no meeting was held. Books of subscription for stock, however, are in the hands of different parties, and it is thought that the county has made it will be found that our people are ready and willing to do in a substantial way what is in their power towards the building of one.

There is a good deal of complaint about the raising of the charges for sending messages by telephone, and unless the rates are lowered there will be a reduction in the amount of business. Twenty cents is now charged for message and answer, and fifteen cents for a simple message. More business and more money will be made, many think, by going back to first charges.

Several of the severest storms have occurred in this county lately. On Sunday night Flint Hill was visited by what is said to have been the worst in its history. The wind was terrific, and much damage was done. The roofs of buildings were blown off, trees uprooted, wheat stacks scattered, and several out buildings bodily lifted from their foundations and rolled away. Near Slate Mills Mr. T. Thornhill had a stack of hay burned by lightning.

Judge Howard, of Flint Hill, for many years U. S. gauger, and well known throughout this, his former district, was attacked by a stroke of paralysis a short time since, and is now greatly prostrated.

The delegates to the Woodstock convention have been selected in this county by primary election, and all are for O'Ferrall. A ticket for Alexander was run in the Washington district, but was beaten. This secures O'Ferrall's renomination beyond the peradventure of a doubt.

PAN-PRESBYTERIAN COUNCIL.—At the meeting of the Pan-Presbyterian Council in London yesterday, Rev. J. McClellan Holmes, of Albany, N. Y., presented the report of the committee on Dr. Hooper's offer of $28,000 to found a college in Canton, China, with the hope that the Presbyterian Alliance would increase the endowment to $100,000. The committee approved the attempt, but, in view of the fact that the Alliance was not a body which could legally hold property, they recommended the council to decline the offer. The report was adopted.

Dr. Ellinwood, of New York, read a paper denouncing the liquor traffic with Africa. In the debate on the progress of Romanism, Dr. Hall said that it was not so strong on the Continent as in the past, and that it seemed stronger in America than it really was.

The second number, that for July, of Belford's Magazine has been received from its publishers in New York. Col. Donn Platt is the editor of this monthly, and if the first two numbers be an earnest of those that are to follow, it is likely he will make it one of the most successful ever started. An entirely new feature of this new candidate for popular favor is that each number contains a complete novel. The contents of this month's number are: A Farmer's View of It, To the Queen of a Republican Court, To Frances Cleveland, A Common Cause, Baby Wisdom, An Afternoon Tea, 'O'D Raven', Domes Pacifica, A Plea for the Negro, Tariff Reform, Singer and Song, Senator Ingalls's Record, Ingersoll on Conkling, Sam Randallism, Sir Charles Dilk, Reviews, Literary Notes, The Book of Chickadee, and The Wrong Man—a novel by Gertrude Harrison.

Deonis McCarthy, a variety actor, attempted to kill his wife at Buffalo yesterday, by shooting her in the back. She is in a critical condition.

ANOTHER TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

A Passenger Train on the Virginia Midland Railway Plunges Through a Bridge—Five Persons Killed and Thirty-Five Injured.

As Virginia Midland train No. 52, the south-bound express, which left this city last night at 11:35 was passing over "Fat Nancy" trestle, two miles south of Orange, about 2:30 a. m., one of the coaches broke down, causing the trestle to give way, precipitating the train in the ravine, about forty feet below, and instantly killing three passengers, one of the mail clerks and the newsboy, and injuring between 30 and 35 passengers, several of them it is feared fatally. The train was composed of an engine, baggage, postal and express cars, two passenger coaches and two sleepers, and was in charge of Conductor C. P. Taylor, Engineer J. H. Watkins, Fireman J. W. Kelley, Baggage Master James Goodwin and Brakemen M. H. Matter and O'Neal.

Mail agent Whittington, of North Carolina; Mr. Cornelius Cox, of this city, the assistant engineer of the company; and two newsboys, who lives in Washington, and two passengers named J. N. Torrence, of Blacks, S. C., and Mr. Hunter, of Scotland, were killed. Engineer Jno. H. Watkins was slightly hurt, Fireman J. Kelley badly hurt, Baggage Master Goodwin and Brakemen O'Neal badly hurt, Conductor Taylor slightly injured, and between 30 and 35 passengers, more or less, injured. The injured were sent to Charlottesville except Messrs. O'Neal, Taylor and Watkins, who were brought to this city about one o'clock in charge of Dr. Powell, who went up the road this morning to relieve the doctors who had been summoned from the neighborhood.

As above stated the accident was caused by the breaking down of one of the coaches and the middle of the train went down first, while the engine was the last to follow. The engine, postal, baggage car, two coaches, and a sleeping car went through to the bottom, a distance of forty feet. The engine is not much hurt, but the cars are considerably broken up. About two hundred feet of the trestle is gone, leaving the two ends standing. The scene of the accident is said to have been fearful. Soon after its occurrence one of the train men was sent back to Orange and the news of the wreck was telegraphed to this city. Early this morning Superintendent Andrews and Train Master Peyton boarded a wrecking train and left here with a large crew for the scene of the accident, and on their arrival went promptly to work doing all in their power to aid the sufferers. A number of physicians in the neighborhood had already been summoned and they too were indefatigable in rendering all possible assistance. The other trains on the road were sent from Charlottesville to Gordonsville via C. & O. R. W. and Gordonsville to Orange, and thence to Alexandria. This causes a delay of about two hours.

The bodies of Mr. Whittington and Mr. Torrence were brought here about 1 o'clock to day and taken to Mr. Wm. Demaine's undertaking establishment, where they were prepared for burial. Mr. Torrence who was a magnificent proportioned man, weighed about 250 pounds, and had one leg broken and a severe bruise on his left side. In his pocket was found a gold watch which was running. Mr. Whittington was a delicate man, very slim, and the only thing of value found on him was a gold ring. The body of Mr. Cox had not been taken from the wreck at 12 o'clock nor had that of the newsboy. Mr. Cox was well known in this city. He had resided here nearly all his life. He had adopted civil engineering as a profession and had served on some of the principal roads in the country, and for some time was engaged with several gentlemen of this city in engineering in Costa Rica. He was recently elected City Surveyor, but resigned to accept a position in the engineering department of the Virginia Midland Railroad, where he possessed in the highest degree the confidence and esteem of his employers. He was a man noted for strict integrity of character, and had a wide circle of friends to whom his excellent traits had endeared him.

This is the first time in the history of this road that a passenger has been killed on it, notwithstanding frequent accidents have occurred, and this is decidedly the most serious one.

[By Telegraph.]

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., July 12.—Express train No. 52, left Orange C. H., south-bound on time at 1:50 this morning. About two miles south of Orange is a trestle 48 feet high. The train was moving at a speed of six miles crossing the trestle, under regular orders. The engine had passed safely over most of the trestle when the smoker, mail, baggage, and express cars went down with a great crash, dragging down the engine and tender and two passenger coaches. Two sleepers remained on the trestle. The engine went down pilot end foremost, thus communicating no fire to the wreck. All lights were extinguished in the fall. As soon as the accident occurred the engineer, who was but slightly injured, walked back to Orange and telegraphed for assistance. Dr. W. C. N. Randolph and other physicians left here on special train for the wreck.

The dead and some of the wounded were taken to Orange while the more seriously hurt were brought to Charlottesville and placed in the Cottage Hospital, hotels and the homes of friends. As far as can be now ascertained five were killed. Cornelius Cox, of Alexandria, was instantly killed; H. T. Whittington, of Greensboro', N. C., postal clerk, lived ten minutes; H. C. Brightwell, postal clerk, of Prospect, Prince Edward county, Va., lived until he reached the hospital; W. D. Parrott, of Albemarle county, postal clerk, badly injured; J. Q. West and J. L. Walthall, of Washington, postal clerks, badly injured; Louis Jenkins, of Lynchburg, postal clerk, slightly injured; —Potterfield, express agent, seriously injured; Z. Jennings, of Lynchburg, a passenger, internal injuries. Captain C. P. Taylor, of Alexandria, who was in the car next to the smoker when the accident occurred, was hurt about the head and one leg was injured. The injured are estimated at about 25.

It is reported that the President is so much pleased with the course of Mr. Obery, the republican Chief of the Civil Service Reform Commission, that he will retain him in that position, and not appoint him Superintendent of Indian Schools, as was hoped by the democratic party. This is unfortunate.

A noble Newfoundland dog was the means the other day of saving a young girl from the hands of a murderous tramp in Washington, Pa. The dog seized the villain by the neck and would have decapitated him but for the arrival of some men. Such a dog is worthy of immortality.

Senator Quay has been elected chairman of the republican national committee.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Emperor William has ordered the plans for a cathedral at Berlin to be proceeded with.

The London Aquarium has been sold for $1,500,000. The property will be devoted to building purposes.

After the meeting of the crown council yesterday in Berlin the ministers waited upon Emperor Victoria at the Friedrichskron palace, and expressed their sympathy with her in the loss of her husband.

Mr. Felix Pyat will make a proposition to the French Chamber of Deputies to confiscate the property in France belonging to the Orleanist princes, and use the proceeds for the erection of asylums for the aged.

Two generals and a number of other officers in Constantinople have been degraded and imprisoned as a result of the recent fight among the soldiers stationed at the Yildiz palace, the residence of the Sultan.

A fire in Baltimore yesterday did about $25,000 damage to thirty-two buildings in the block bounded by Broadway, Thames, Bond and Shakespeare streets. Some of the houses were occupied by Bohemian families, who had difficulty in getting out in safety.

Advices from along the C. & O. canal above Williamsport indicate that the high waters have done considerable damage. The waste-way at dam No. 5 has been swept away, and some sixty feet of the canal banks above the cement mills, near Han cock, have been destroyed. At Williams port the canal is also in danger.

A personal encounter took place yesterday afternoon in Washington, between Judge of the Peace Samuel C. Mills and Lawyer John Ambler Smith in the former's office. The trouble grew out of a suit against Mr. Smith. After Judge Mills had rendered a verdict against Mr. Smith, the latter became angry and struck the judge. Both men then clinched, and came out of the fight equally hurt. After the affair Judge Mills swore out a warrant against Mr. Smith for assault.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Mr. John B. Lightfoot, a prominent citizen of Caroline county, died in Port Royal on Tuesday.

Col. W. W. Williamson has purchased the Scriven property, near Warrenton, for six thousand dollars.

E. G. Elam, a former merchant of Petersburg, was killed by a lightning stroke in Buckingham county Tuesday.

R. P. Halstead, a well known citizen of Norfolk, a veteran of the late war, and a member of Pickett-Buchanan Camp, died yesterday morning.

Col. Wm. P. Craighill has submitted his estimates for next year as follows: James river, $400,000; harbor at Norfolk, $100,000; approaches to Norfolk harbor, $100,000; Currituck sound, etc., $20,000; New river, $20,000.

Mrs. Sarah Brunet, of Norfolk, who died last Friday, left $5,000 to the Freemason Street Baptist Church in that city, $5,500 to the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, $1,000 to the home mission board and $1,000 for the Home for Aged and Indigent Females.

Argument in the trial of W. H. Godsey, clerk of St. Charles Hotel, in Richmond, for the murder of Dave Glass, a negro waiter, closed last night, but there was no verdict. The jury was held over till to-day. They are said to be 10 for acquittal and two for conviction.

Henry Smith, the negro who committed the outrage on Mrs. Midriff, in Pulaski county, a few days ago, was lynched near Wytheville by a mob Tuesday night. He was taken from the cars while being removed for greater safety, hanged to a neighboring tree and his body riddled with bullets. The parties to the lynching are unknown, but are supposed to be from Pulaski.

A severe thunder storm passed over the lower end of Middlesex county Monday afternoon, and a large hall, built by the Good Templars and Masons about two years ago, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, with all the furniture. The crash was so severe that pieces of weather boarding and window sashings were torn off and scattered around for several hundred feet, and hogs that were near by were instantly killed.

Sunday School Convention.

The Sunday school convention of the Baltimore conference of the Methodist Church South, at Berryville, held its first session yesterday morning. Rev. Samuel Rodgers, D. D., spoke on the advancement of the Sunday school work. Rev. W. G. Eggleston endorsed the Rev. Mr. Rodgers's remarks.

The annual report was read by Mr. T. J. Magruder, the president. More than fifteen hundred scholars have been converted, and several Sunday school institutes have been held within the conference bounds. There has been an increase of 16 schools and 1,612 scholars, and the Sunday school membership is 40,000 in the Baltimore Conference. While there are 413 more churches than last year there are 547 more schools. The increase in Sunday school membership in the General Conference has been 41,273, and there is now an aggregate Sunday school membership of 731,309.

Rev. B. W. Bond spoke on "How Shall We Win Our Young People to Christ?" Rev. J. Edgar Wilson spoke on "Missions." Rev. J. P. Stump spoke on the relation between Christ and children.

Among the clerical delegates present are Rev. Samuel Rodgers, D. D., Alexandria, and Rev. J. S. Gardner, Staunton.

DEATH OF DR. GARNETT.—Dr. A. Y. P. Garnett, the well known physician of Washington, died at Rehoboth Beach, Del., last night, shortly after his arrival there of heart failure. He had been ill for several days, and was believed to be slowly convalescing. He was born in Essex county, Va., September 19th, 1820, and was, therefore, in his sixty-eighth year. He graduated in medicine at the University of Pennsylvania in 1841, entered the United States navy as assistant surgeon the same year, was promoted surgeon in 1848, and resigned in 1850 in order to accept the professorship of clinical medicine in the National Medical College of Washington. He married the eldest daughter of Henry A. Wise. At the breaking out of the war he left Washington and became a surgeon-general of the Confederate army. He was the family physician of Jefferson Davis, and accompanied Mr. Davis after the evacuation of Richmond. At the close of war he returned to Washington, and was again elected a professor in the medical college. Recently he was elected president of the American Medical Association.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES.

Proceedings of Congress.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12. SENATE.

Shortly after the Senate met to-day a resolution to print extra copies of the report of the Committee on Pensions in the case of seven voted pension bills was the text for some political discussion. A vote had not been taken on the resolution when this report closed.

HOUSE.

Sessions were ordered for next Wednesday and Thursday nights for the consideration of bills reported respectively from the Committee on Labor and the Committee on Military Affairs.

The House at an early hour went into Committee of the Whole on the tariff bill.

The Flood.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 12.—The waters that have been sweeping the valley of the Monongahela and the waters of its tributaries for the last sixty hours are again falling into their natural channels. They leave in their track scenes of desolation and ruin that have never had their counterpart in the same localities. From Pittsburgh to the mountain fastnesses of Randolph county, Va., towns have been ravaged, manufacturing have been inundated, boats have been sunk, houses and lumber have been floated off. Fields with their wheat in shock and growing crops have been devastated, families driven to the hills for shelter and in many instances the accumulations of years of toil and self denial have been lost in an hour. The losses entailed by the flood will not fall short of $3,000,000.

Maxwell, the Murderer.

ST. LOUIS, July 12.—The Governor this morning rendered his decision in which he declines to grant a commutation of the sentence against Hugh M. Brooks, alias Maxwell, but granted a respite for four weeks. The usual death watch was set yesterday morning over Maxwell and Henry Lagdref, sentenced to be hanged to-morrow. Three guards have the prisoners in special charge and will not lose sight of them for a moment until the execution takes place or the Governor interferes with his clemency. Brooks spent most of the forenoon playing dominoes with the watchers and was in pretty good spirits but anxiously looking for dispatches from Jefferson City, where his attorneys are pleading before the Governor.

Rise in the Potomac.

BALTIMORE, July 12.—A special from Hagerstown, Md., says the Potomac river began rising at Williamsport Tuesday afternoon and continued to rise until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when it was about 2 feet above low water mark—the greatest depth reached since the freshet of 1877. Considerable damage has been done to the crops in the low lands. The sudden rise in the river is due to the heavy rains west of Cumberland.

Death of Thomas H. Saulsbury.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—Thomas H. Saulsbury, of Dover, Del., nephew of Senator Saulsbury and clerk of the Senate Committee on Exposed bills, of which the Senator is chairman, died in this city of Bright's disease, late last night. He had been an officer of the Senate for the last eight or ten years and was highly respected.

Death of Hiram Sibley.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 12.—Hiram Sibley died at his home here at 10:45 o'clock this morning.

Mr. Randall's Condition.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—Mr. Randall still continues to progress favorably towards recovery. He passed a quiet, restful night and appears to be refreshed to-day.

Fire and Loss of Life.

ALBANY, Mich., July 12.—A fire here to-day destroyed property valued at $400,000. Three persons lost their lives and many are reported missing.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The stock market was quiet and rather weak at the opening this morning, the first sales being made at concessions from last evening's figures of from 1/2 to 3/4 percent. Generally, further slight losses were sustained in the early dealings in a few of the active stocks, and the market continued dull and featureless. The early decline was followed by a general advance, which, however, was in most of the list confined to small fractions only. The market became positively dull late in the hour, and there was a slight decline from the best figures, and at 11 o'clock the market was quiet and rather heavy though generally at small fractions better than the opening prices. Money easy at 1 1/4.

BALTIMORE, July 12.—Virginia consols at 107; post-due consols, old, —; do 10-40s 34 1/4; do new 3s 63 1/2 bid to-day.

ALEXANDRIA MARKET. July 12.—Flour has shown very little change for ten days; no new has yet been offered; millers and holders of choice brands of freshly-ground old are both asking fair prices. Wheat is steady for sound, sweet, well-cleaned samples, but dull and weak for off-grade, hence the usual long range, running all the way from 60 for musty, damaged lots to 87 for the best longberry and mixed milling wheats. Corn is higher at 64 to 68 for white and at 60 to 63 for mixed and yellow. Rye 55 to 60. Oats 40 to 43. Eggs are sold at 14 to 15. Butter and other produce are abundant and lower.

BALTIMORE, July 12.—Cotton firm; middling 10 1/4; Flour steady. Wheat—Southern firm and higher; Fall 85 1/2; longberry 85 1/2; Western firm and nominal; No 2 winter red spot nominal 1 1/2; Aug 85 1/2; Sept 85 1/2. Corn—Southern firm; white 55 1/2; yellow 55 1/2; Western dull and nominal; mixed spot, July and August 54 1/2; Sept 55 1/2; Oct 55 1/2. Oats active and easy; Southern and Penna 40 1/2; Western white 42 1/2; do mixed 39 1/2; 40 1/2. Rye dull and nominal at 50 1/2. ## PUBLIC SALE OF VALUABLE PROPERTY.

Pursuant to a decree of the Circuit Court of Loudoun county, Virginia, rendered at the April term, 1888, in the chancery cause of Harper, admr., vs. Harper and als., pending in said court, the undersigned, commissioners of sale, thereby appointed, will sell at 12 o'clock on THURSDAY, the 25th day of July, 1888, in front of the Fairfax street entrance to the Corporation Court room, in the city of Alexandria, expose for sale at public auction the following property in Alexandria city, viz:

Lot 1—All that LOT with the BUILDINGS thereon No. 142 (old number) Cameron street, in said city, beginning on the south side of Cameron street, between Henry and Patrick streets, at the east line of the lot conveyed to Wm. Atkins and wife by Samuel Miller; thence south 80 feet 2 inches, more or less, to a 10 foot alley; thence east 16 feet 10 inches; thence north to Cameron street; thence west 16 feet 10 inches to the beginning; and the adjoining lot, beginning on the south side of Cameron street, 70 feet 4 inches east of Henry street and to the east line of the lot above described, and running east with Cameron street about 22 inches; thence south parallel to Henry street 83 feet 3 inches to an alley 10 feet wide; thence west with said alley to Jos. Fairfax's ground; thence with his line to the beginning, with the use of said alley. The whole constituting one lot.

Lot 2—All that LOT OF GROUND on the east side of Fairfax street, beginning on Fairfax street 76 feet 7 inches to the northward of Franklin street, and running thence northwardly with Fairfax street 77 feet; thence eastwardly parallel to Franklin street 123 feet 5 inches; thence southwardly parallel to the 70 feet 4 inches east of Henry street with a straight line to the beginning. This property will be divided into and sold as three lots, each fronting 25 feet 8 inches on Fairfax street and extending back with that width 123 feet 5 inches.

Lot 3—The LOT at the southeast intersection of Queen and Alfred streets, which is currently advertised for sale by the undersigned, G. A. Shuback in Harper vs. Jamieson et als.

Terms of Sale: As to lots 1 and 2 ten percent in cash at time of sale; one third of the
